

Our Mission

To provide developmentally appropriate, individualized instruction to students aged 4-adult using learning systems that are research based and proven effective. Individual student success will be accomplished through direct multisensory instruction, active student involvement, expert evaluation, and direct communication/collaboration with families.

“Working with Alice at the Gillan Center changed my son’s life. He was a struggling reader and it impacted the way he felt about himself as both a student and a person... He is reading on grade level and has improved so much that I must remind his Team at school he is diagnosed with Dyslexia. When I asked him what he would say about his work with Alice his response was ‘She was fun, engaging, and made learning fun. She taught me I was a reader and believed in me.’ We are forever grateful.”

Our Vision

To give each student the opportunity for instruction that is individualized and differentiated in order to motivate students to seek further knowledge and reach their potential.

Our Beliefs

- Every student can learn, but everyone learns in a different way.
- Each student is unique and brings complex abilities to each learning context.
- It is the job of Gillan Learning Center to find the most efficient path, so each student can reach his or her individual potential.
- Active, direct, multisensory learning experiences improve a student's ability to be successful and leads to student ownership of learning.
- Collaborative relationships between students, teachers, and families are important and are an enormous part of a student's success.
- Often students need positive motivation to learn, especially when learning is difficult.
- Learning is hard work and needs to be practiced in order for students to be successful and to lead independent lives in the future.

Hooked on Books Club

Based on guided reading level and chronological age, students will be assigned highly engaging “just right books” to read during Hooked on Books Club. Students will read independently and write about their reading.

The Write Club

Students follow the writing process to write and publish personal narratives.

Factors Math Club

Students will engage in enjoyable researched based activities that will strengthen their math fact fluency at their own pace and level.

Homework Club

Students will complete homework with support of an instructor.
